JULIE Y BAKER ALBRIGHT

Julie Y Baker Albright is a 6th generation Vermonter and was born in 1958 in Essex VT. She holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of Vermont. Julie started in the arts as a potter and held resident potter positions in Vermont's two most notable arts & crafts centers. From clay she progressed to watercolor and now works exclusively in oil. Julie lives in Essex VT.

In recent years Landscape has become more & more a part of her work. Julie travels the back roads of Vermont with a passion for the small generational farms like those that her ancestors worked. She has no desire to leave this land, the beauty of Vermont holds all.

Albright's award winning paintings have been exhibited in over 40 juried exhibitions across the country. Her memberships include: Oil Painters of America, Academic Artists Association, Copley Society of Art, Hudson Valley Art Association, Georgia Watercolor Society (signature member), Philadelphia Watercolor Society (signature member), and Watercolor USA Honor Society. She is represented by several galleries throughout Vermont, as well as Cape Cod and Florida.

“While the objects I choose to paint are often common, they manifest an uncommon beauty when the cool north light caresses them and the warmth of the shadows engulf them. With the paint I strive for the illusion of the 3rd dimension, to paint the air behind the object and create a tranquil experience to share.”
